Twelfth Sunday of the Year

Lord in your great love, answer me.

Psalm 68 is a hymn of Supplication. The psalmist pleads with God for deliverance from various forms of distress, be they physical suffering, isolation, accusation or even persecution.

Overwhelmed by enemies he pleads for being made an object of mockery. The sense of humiliation and reproach are so stressful that it has made him physically ill.

The response expresses the psalmist plea for help. It echoes the lament of Jerusalem in the face of hostility and scorn. The emphasis shifts from the plight of the petitioner to the goodness and trustworthiness of God.
