26th August 2018 21st Sunday of the Year Taste and see the goodness of the Lord

Psalm 33 is the continuation of the last Sunday. Even the response is the same. Also the psalm turns out to be unusually long.
There are five verses. Here again the opponent is between the just and broken hearted on the one hand and the wicked on the other.

The psalm begins with a brief act of praise which is at the same time an invitation to those present to seek God's glory which is powerful, efficient and liberating.

The experience of God is full of goodness and delight. The fear of God is a font of all blessings It does imply keeping God's commandments. God is with those who follow such a way of life. The opposition between the righteous and evil is part of wisdom literature.
