31st March 2019 4th Sunday of Lent
Reconciling
 We have reached the midpoint of our Lenten journey. Once again we are offered the opportunity of being reconciled to ourselves, to God and neighbour.
 Just as the father does not hold the transgressions of his son so God does not hold our transgressions. Reconciling us to himself and then graciously gives us the message of reconciling to others. We are reminded of our Baptism and the mercy and forgiveness of God.
 The introduction is crucial to our understanding of the story Jesus is seated at the table with tax collectors and sinners. This story is specially directed at the religious leaders. In today's context that of church abuse. There is a saying among storytellers that the story begins after the storyteller stops talking.
