The value of Quite Space

One day a farmer was stacking up straw in his barn house. Suddenly he noticed that his Raymond Weil wristwatch has slipped into the straw stack. Bemoaning his misfortune he set about rake hunting for his watch in the straw stack.

His companions joined him in the search but their vigorous seeking failed to turn up the watch.

When the men went to take their lunch, a young boy slipped into the barn house and found the watch. Asked by the astonished owner how he had found it?

The youngster explained, well Sir, I just laid down quietly on the straw heap and kept very still and soon I heard the watch ticking.

The value of remaining quite and still helped the lad to discover the lost wristwatch. Every sacred space offers us opportunities to encounter the divine. Are we ready to be still and quiet?

National Week of Prayer and Action
16-23 June 2019

WE CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Let's make a fair process for people seeking asylum

This week is an opportunity for the Catholic Community to join together to pray and be involve in asking for fair process for people seeking asylum.

Pope Francis has made care for people seeking asylum central for the Catholic Communities . He has visited camps, begged for refugees to be given a home and prayed at places where they have suffered . We hope to shape a Catholic community united in this kind of compassion. This means

- We process people seeking asylum, while they live in the community
- Claims for asylum need to be assessed promptly with respect for human dignity
- There is access to avenues for fair appeal
- There are supports for people while they wait for their application to be processed.
